Headline:
Dry with long spells of warm or very warm sunshine.

Today:
Any overnight low cloud and mist burning back to the coast through the morning. Otherwise a dry day with long spells of unbroken warm or very warm sunshine. Highest temperatures in south and west with mainly light easterly winds. Maximum temperature 25 deg C (77 deg F).

Tonight:
Some late sunshine then clear spells, especially western and southern parts, but low cloud spreading into northeastern parts overnight. Increasing risk of rain and drizzle across Caithness later in night. Minimum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Monday:
Remaining rather cloudy across Caithness through much of the day with some rain and drizzle. Elsewhere warm sunny spells with occasionally heavy, slow moving showers developing, best sun in southwest. Maximum temperature 23 deg C (73 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Much cooler and becoming increasingly unsettled with showers or longer spells of rain, these heavy and perhaps thundery at times.
